270.49	Motion for new trial on minutes.	270.96	Uniform enforcement of foreign judgments act.
270.50	Motion for new trial on newly dis- covered evidence.
270.52	Irregularities in venires, etc., im- material.

270.01 Kinds of issue. Issues arise upon the pleadings when a fact or conclusion of law is maintained by one party and controverted by the other; they are of two kinds:

- (1) Of law.
- (2) Of fact.

270.02 Issue of law. An issue of law arises upon a demurrer to the complaint, answer or reply or to some part thereof.

270.03 Issue of fact defined. An issue of fact arises:

- (1) Upon a material allegation in the complaint, controverted by the answer; or
- (2) Upon a material allegation of any counterclaim in the answer, controverted by the reply; or
- (3) Upon a material allegation of new matter in the answer, not requiring a reply, unless an issue of law is joined thereon; or
- (4) Upon a material allegation of new matter in the reply, unless an issue of law is joined thereon.

270.04 Issues of law; trial. When issues both of law and of fact arise upon the pleadings, the issue of law must be first tried unless the court otherwise direct.

270.05 Feigned and special issues. Feigned issues are abolished, and instead thereof, when a question of fact not put in issue by the pleadings is to be tried by a jury, an order for trial may be made, stating distinctly and plainly the question of fact to be tried.

270.06 Trial defined. A trial is the judicial examination of the issues between the parties, whether they be issues of law or of fact.

270.07 Issues, by whom tried, when tried. (1) An issue of fact in an action for the recovery of money only, or of real or personal property or for divorce or legal separation on the ground of adultery, must be tried by a jury except as otherwise provided in this chapter and except that equitable defenses or counterclaims are triable by the court. Every other issue must be tried by the court, but the court may order the whole issue or any specific question of fact involved therein to be tried by a jury; or may refer an issue as provided in s. 270.34.

(2) When any matter in abatement of any action triable by jury is set up, which involves the finding of any fact, the same shall be found by a special verdict of a jury, unless a trial by jury be waived; and when there is any other issue of fact in the action, the same may be submitted to the same jury at the same time; otherwise the issue in abatement shall first be tried. When the issues of fact are triable by the court, any issue in abatement may be tried at the same time as the other issues of fact.

History: 1961 c. 336.

270.08 Order of trial; separate trials. When issues arise triable by a jury and other issues triable by the court, the court shall, in its discretion, direct the trial of the one or the other to be first had, according to the nature of the issues and the interests of justice, and judgment shall be given upon both the verdict and the finding of the court, when both shall be found. But no issue need be tried, the disposition of which is not necessary to enable the court to render the appropriate judgment. A separate trial between the plaintiff and any of the several defendants may be allowed by the court whenever in its opinion justice will be thereby promoted.

270.11 Hearing on demurrer. The issue raised by a demurrer may be brought on for trial before the court at any time upon 5 days' notice.

270.115 Notice of trial. Every issue of fact or law may be noticed for trial at any time after issue joined, by service of notice of trial on the opposite party. In certiorari and appeals the date of filing the return is the date of issue. The notice of trial, or the copy served, with proof of service indorsed thereon or attached thereto may be filed with the clerk by either party. Such notice of trial shall state that the action will be placed on the calendar for trial at the time and in the manner prescribed by s. 270.12. It shall also contain the title of the action, the names of the attorneys, the time when issue was joined, and state whether the issue be of law or of fact, and if the latter, whether triable by the court or by the jury. If such notice of trial so filed fails to comply in any respect with the requirements of this section the presiding judge in his discretion, if satisfied that the opposite party has not been misled or prejudiced thereby, may direct the action to be placed on the calendar as hereinafter provided.

270.12 Calendar. (1) TIME OF ARRANGEMENT. When the notice of trial is filed with the clerk he shall place issues on the calendar as follows:

(a) Issues of law or fact triable by the court shall be placed on the calendar of the current term when 10 days have elapsed after service of notice of trial.

(b) Issues of fact triable by the jury shall be placed on the calendar of the next term, if notice of trial is filed 15 days or more before commencement of such term. If such notice is filed less than 15 days before commencement of the next term, issues shall be placed on the calendar of the term following the next one.

(Im) CRIMINAL CASES. Criminal cases and prosecution for violations of municipal ordinances shall be placed on the calendar of the current term.

(2) ADVANCEMENT OF ISSUES. Whether or not a case has been noticed for trial, the court may, on application of any party upon notice, or on its own motion, on 8 days' prior notice by regular mail if no notice of trial has been filed, place on the calendar or advance for trial any action which is at issue.

(3) PENDING MATTERS CONTINUED. All matters pending and undisposed of at the end of a term are continued to the next term and shall be placed upon the calendar of the next term in accordance with their nature and date of filing notice of trial.

(4) CLERK TO PREPARE. The clerk shall prepare a calendar for each term of the cir-circuit court of all actions which are for trial as shown by the notices filed including those covered by sub. (3), containing the title of each action, and the names of the attorneys, and arranged as follows: (a) criminal cases in the order of filing, (ab) prosecutions for violations of municipal ordinances and appeals thereof from county and justice courts to the circuit courts, (b) civil jury issues, (c) issues of fact for court, and (d) issues of law in the order in which notice of trial was filed. The calendar shall be disposed of in the above order unless for convenience of parties, the dispatch of business, or the prevention of injustice, the presiding judge otherwise directs.

(5) LARGE CALENDARS. In circuit courts having 1,000 or more causes on the term calendar, the clerk may, with the approval of the court, arrange the causes according to the date of filing the complaint, petition or other pleading necessary to commence the action or special proceeding or of the return on appeal and the serial record number of every cause shall be its calendar number.

(6) CONDITIONS PRECEDENT. The clerk shall not place any cause upon the calendar unless the state tax and the proper amount of clerk's fees shall have been paid and summons and complaint or copies thereof shall have been filed in his office.

(7) CORRECTION OF CALENDAR. All motions to correct the calendar or to strike causes therefrom shall be made immediately after the calling of the calendar.

(8) CALENDARS DISTRIBUTED. When the calendar for any term is printed, a copy thereof shall be mailed or delivered to the presiding judge and to the reporter and to each attorney appearing thereon in any cause, at least 4 days before the term.

History: 1961 c. 495.

270.125 Order of business. (1) MOTIONS, DEMURRERS. At the beginning of each term, after calling the calendar, the court shall hear motions and demurrers in causes to be tried on the merits at that term giving precedence to such as relate to actions for trial by jury.

(2) JURY TRIALS FIRST. On the first day of the term, unless otherwise ordered, the jury shall be called, and the trial of jury causes shall proceed.

(3) DAY CALENDAR. The criminal cases, ordinance violation cases and appeals thereof from county and justice courts and the first 6 civil cases on the calendar shall be subject to call for trial upon the first day of the term. The clerk shall each day make up the following day's calendar, upon which he shall place such cases as the presiding judge directs.

(4) NOTICE TO PRISONERS. The district attorney shall, at least ten days before each general term of the court, inform prisoners awaiting trial of their right to counsel and to compulsory process to procure the attendance of witnesses.

(5) APPLICATIONS PUBLICLY ANNOUNCED. All applications to the court for orders or judgments, whether ex parte or otherwise, shall be publicly announced by the attorney making the application, and the clerk shall enter a brief statement thereof, with the action of the court thereon, in his minute book; and no court order shall be operative unless and until such entry is made, or unless the order shall be reduced to writing and signed.

History: 1961 c. 495.

270.13 Who may bring cause to trial. Either party may bring all the issues in an action to trial at any term at which the same are triable when a notice of trial has been duly served by either, and unless the court, for good cause, otherwise direct may, in the absence of the adverse party, proceed with his case and take a dismissal of the action or a verdict or judgment, as the case may require. No inquest shall hereafter be taken in any action.

270.14 Demurrers and motions, when heard. When, in any action noticed for trial, there shall be pending a demurrer to any pleading or a motion to strike out a pleading or any part thereof, or to make it more definite and certain, and the court shall think any such proceeding by either party may have been taken for delay or that for any reason justice requires a more speedy disposition of the action the demurrer or motion may be disposed of at the commencement of the term and the action be tried at the same term, short leave to amend or plead over being given when necessary; and a continuance be granted only upon good cause shown, which the court may in discretion require to be such as is usually required to obtain a second continuance in other actions.

270.145 Continuances. (1) Motions for continuances (except from day to day or to some day during the term) shall be made on the first day of the term unless the cause alleged therefor occur or be discovered thereafter. No cause noticed for trial shall be continued without the consent of the parties or cause shown.

(2) An affidavit for a continuance shall state that the moving party has a valid cause of action or a defense, in whole or in part, and if in part it shall specify what part; that the case has been fully and fairly stated to his counsel, giving the name and place of residence of such counsel, and that upon the statement thus made he is advised by his counsel that he has a cause of action or defense to the cause in whole or in part; and that he has used due diligence to prepare for trial, and the nature and kind of diligence used. If the application is based on the absence of a witness or document the affidavit shall state the name of the absent witness and his residence, if known, or the nature of any document wanted, and where the same can be found; that no other evidence is at hand or witness is in attendance or known to him whose testimony could have been procured in time, that the party can safely rely upon to prove the facts which he expects and believes can be proved by such absent witness or document; that the party is advised by his counsel, and believes, that he cannot safely go to trial without such evidence, that such witness is not absent by his consent, connivance or procurement, and the endeavors that have been used for the purpose of procuring such evidence; and particularly the facts which the absent document or witness is expected to prove, with the ground of such expectation.

(3) If the adverse party admits in writing or in open court that the witness, if present, would testify as stated in the affidavit for continuance, the application for a continuance may be denied, and the statement of facts aforesaid may be read as evidence, but the adverse party may controvert such statements, and such statements shall be subject to objection the same as a deposition.

(4) Where an application for a continuance is made by a party whose affidavit states that he has a valid defense to some part only of the other party's cause of action or demand, which he desires time to obtain testimony to establish, the application shall be denied if the other party withdraws or abandons that part of his cause of action or demand.

(5) When it shall appear to the court that the absent witness or desired evidence with reasonable diligence may be procured before the close of the term, the court may grant a continuance of the action from day to day or to some certain day in the term, upon the payment of such costs as it may deem just and proper.

(6) No continuance by the court or referee shall be granted unless by consent of parties except upon immediate payment of the fees of witnesses in actual attendance and reasonable attorney's fees. Costs of continuance shall be taxed by the clerk immediately and without notice.

270.15 Drawing of petit jury. (1) At every term of any court for which jurors are drawn as provided in s. 255.04 the clerk shall place in a tumbler only the names of the petit jurors in attendance who have been drawn and summoned according to law for service at such term. The names shall be written upon separate cards and enclosed in opaque envelopes as required by s. 255.04 (2) (b).

(2) When a jury issue is to be tried the clerk shall, in the presence and under the direction of the court, openly draw out of the tumbler, one at a time, as many envelopes containing cards as are necessary to secure a jury. Before drawing each card he shall close the tumbler and rotate it.

(3) The jury may consist of any number of persons less than 12 that the parties agree upon. If there be no such agreement it shall consist of 12 persons so drawn who are not lawfully challenged and who are approved as indifferent between the parties.

(4) During the trial the cards containing the names of the jurors shall be kept separately until the jury is discharged, and then they shall be returned, properly enclosed in envelopes, to the tumbler, and the same course shall be taken as often as a jury is required.

(5) The card containing the name of the juror who is set aside or excused for any cause shall be replaced in its envelope and returned to the tumbler as soon as the jury is sworn.

(6) If a jury issue is brought to trial while a jury is trying another cause, the court may order a jury for the trial of the former to be drawn out of the tumbler in the ordinary way; but in any other case all the cards containing the names of the petit jurors, returned at and attending the term, shall be placed in the tumbler before a jury is drawn.

270.16 Qualifications of jurors; examination. The court shall, on request of either party, examine on oath any person who is called as a juror therein to know whether he is related to either party, or has any interest in the cause, or has expressed or formed any opinion, or is sensible of any bias or prejudice therein, and the party objecting to the juror may introduce any other competent evidence in support of the objection, and if it shall appear to the court that the juror does not stand indifferent in the cause another shall be called and placed in his stead for trial of that cause; provided, that nothing contained in this section shall be construed as abridging in any manner the right of either party in person or through his attorneys to examine any person so called in regard to his qualifications as fully as if this section did not exist. Every person summoned as a juror for any term shall be paid and discharged whenever it appears that he is a party to any action triable by jury at such term.

270.17 Newspaper information does not disqualify. It shall be no cause of challenge to a juror that he may have obtained information of the matters at issue through newspapers or public journals, if he shall have received no bias or prejudice thereby; or that he is an inhabitant of or liable to pay taxes in a county interested in the action.

270.18 Number of jurors drawn; peremptory challenges. A sufficient number of jurors shall be called in the action so that twelve shall remain after the exercise of all peremptory challenges to which the parties are entitled as hereinafter provided. Each party shall be entitled to three such challenges which shall be exercised alternately, the plaintiff beginning; and when any party shall decline to challenge in his turn, such challenge shall be made by the clerk by lot. The parties to the action shall be deemed two, all plaintiffs being one party and all defendants being the other party, except that in case where two or more defendants have adverse interests, the court, if satisfied that the due protection of their interests so requires, in its discretion, may allow to the defendant or defendants on each side of said adverse interests, not to exceed three such challenges.

270.20 Jury may view premises, etc. The jury may, in any case, at the request of either party, be taken to view the premises or place in question or any property, matter or thing relating to the controversy between the parties, when it shall appear to the court that such view is necessary to a just decision; provided, the party making the motion shall advance a sum sufficient to defray the expenses of the jury and the officers who attend them in taking the view; which expenses shall afterwards be taxed like other legal costs if the party who advanced them shall prevail in the action.

270.205 Examination of witnesses; arguments. On the trial not more than one attorney on each side shall examine or cross-examine a witness and not more than two attorneys on each side shall sum up to the jury, unless the judge shall otherwise order. The party having the affirmative shall be entitled to the opening and closing argument, and in the opening the points relied on shall be stated. The waiver of argument by either party shall not preclude the adverse party from making any argument which he would otherwise have been entitled to make. The court may before the argument is begun, limit the time of argument.

The supreme court disapproves of the practice of permitting counsel for the plaintiff in argument to the jury, either orally or by the use of a blackboard or a chart, to present to the jury a mathematical formula setting forth on a per diem basis the amount determined by the plaintiff as his or her damages for pain and suffering, the use of such a formula being pure speculation by counsel, not supported by the evidence, and presenting matters which do not appear in the record. There is, so far as the objectionability thereof is concerned, no difference between using a mathematical formula for illustrative purposes and using it to determine the reasonableness of the amount sought as damages for pain and suffering. Affett v. Milwaukee & S. T. Corp. 11 W (2d) 604, 106 NW (2d) 274.

Counsel for both the plaintiff and the defendant may properly make an argumentative suggestion in summation from the evidence of a lump-sum dollar amount for pain and suffering which they believe the evidence will fairly and reasonably support, but counsel may not properly argue that such amount was arrived at or explained by a mathematical formula or on a per day, per month, or on any other time-segment basis. Affett v. Milwaukee & S. T. Corp. 11 W (2d) 604, 106 NW (2d) 274. A statement of the plaintiff's counsel to the jury, on the subject of damages for personal injuries, "I am asking you to consider $25,000," was not improper argument. Walker v. Baker, 13 W (2d) 637, 109 NW (2d) 499.

270.21 Charge to jury; how given. The judge shall charge the jury and all such and subsequent instructions shall, unless a written charge be waived by counsel at the commencement of the trial be reduced to writing before being delivered or the same shall be taken down by the official reporter of the court. Each instruction asked by counsel to be given the jury shall be given without change or refused in full. If any judge shall violate any of the foregoing provisions or make any comments to the jury upon the law or facts without the same being so reduced to writing or taken down, the verdict shall be set aside or the judgment rendered thereon reversed unless at the time of submission to the jury there was no jury issue upon the evidence. The reporter shall take down all that the judge says during the trial to the jury or in their presence of or concerning such cause. Requests for instructions to the jury must be submitted in writing before the argument to the jury is begun, unless in the opinion of the trial judge, special circumstances excuse failure to so submit such requests.

Although the problem of whether the jury, in comparing the negligence of the parties, will give great weight to a finding by the trial court, is inherent in a situation where the court is compelled to make a finding, the problem can and should be met by instructions making it clear that no greater weight should be given to such a finding than should be given to a finding made by the jury. Field v. Vinograd, 10 W (2d) 500, 103 NW (2d) 671.

Where the trial court gave a requested instruction that the court, in finding that the plaintiff 12-year-old pedestrian was causally negligent in failing to yield the right of way to the defendant motorist, was not finding that the defendant was or was not negligent, and that the determination of the other questions in the special verdict was for the jury, including the apportionment of the negligence, and the court then gave instructions, among others, that a driver owes a special responsibility of care and safety as to children and a higher degree of care toward children than toward adults, that a child is held to a lesser degree of care than is an adult, and that in comparing the negligence the jury should take into consideration that the defendant was an adult and the plaintiff a child, the first-mentioned instruction was not inadequate because of being placed in the early part of the instructions, and the remaining instructions were not prejudicial to the plaintiff as placing undue emphasis on the court's finding on the plaintiff's failure to yield the right of way because of again referring in certain places to such finding. Field v. Vinograd, 10 W (2d) 500, 103 NW (2d) 671.

Instructions as to burden of proof in undue influence cases discussed. Kuehn v. Kuehn, 11 W (2d) 15, 104 NW (2d) 133.

There is negligence on the part of the driver of an automobile when he proceeds at a speed at which he cannot stop his vehicle within the distance that he can see ahead of him. Any person whose negligence contributes to or helps to create an emergency is not entitled to the benefit of the emergency rule, and the jury in many cases should be so advised. Lentz v. Northwestern Nat. Casualty Co. 11 W (2d) 462, 105 NW (2d) 759.

The rule, that failure to give a proper requested instruction in an automobile collision case is not error where it affects both drivers in the same way and to the same degree, would apply to a failure to give a proper instruction on the emergency rule which was not requested but which should have been included in the charge. Pagel v. Holewinski, 11 W (2d) 634, 106 NW (2d) 425.

The emergency rule is directed to the question of negligence rather than to the question of causation. Kuentzel v. State Farm Mut. Automobile Ins. Co. 12 W (2d) 72, 106 NW (2d) 324.

Instruction as to negligence of child criticized. Rasmussen v. Garthus, 12 W (2d) 203, 107 NW (2d) 264.

Under evidence that on a snowy morning plaintiff entered a store and slipped on a puddle of water near the entrance, plaintiff should have anticipated the likelihood of a slippery floor and maintained a lookout. Instruction on ordinary care approved. Mondl v. F. W. Woolworth Co. 12 W (2d) 571, 107 NW (2d) 472.

Instructions concerning negligence of driver and pedestrian run over while lying on road at night discussed. Gilberg v. Tisdale, 13 W (2d) 249, 108 NW (2d) 515.

Instruction as to duty of driver meeting a car which is signaling for a left turn approved. Walker v. Baker, 13 W (2d) 637, 109 NW (2d) 499.

Where the trial court instructed the jury as to the life expectancy of the plaintiff, but neglected to instruct also that in making a present award for a period of future years the jury should determine the present value of such award, but the defendant made no request for such instruction it was not prejudicial error on the part of the trial court in failing to include and give such instruction. Walker v. Baker, 13 W (2d) 637, 109 NW (2d) 499.

Failure to reduce speed after a dangerous situation has been sighted is properly a matter of management and control and not speed. Bartz v. Braun, 14 W (2d) 425, 111 NW (2d) 431.

270.22 Charge to jury filed. As soon as any charge has been given to the jury it shall be placed and remain on file among the papers of the case. When delivered orally the reporter shall immediately transcribe the same in longhand and file it, without special compensation therefor.

270.23 Jury may be reinstructed. When a jury, after due and thorough deliberation upon any cause, shall return into court without having agreed on a verdict the court may state anew the evidence or any part of it and may explain to them anew the law applicable to the case, and may send them out again for further deliberation; but if they shall return a second time, without having agreed on a verdict, they shall not be sent out again without their own consent unless they shall ask from the court some further explanation of the law.

270.24 No nonsuit after argument. The plaintiff shall have no right to submit to a nonsuit after the argument of the cause to the jury shall have been concluded or waived.

270.25 Verdicts; five-sixths; directed. (1) A verdict agreed to by five-sixths of the jurors shall be the verdict of the jury. If more than one question must be answered to arrive at a verdict on the same cause of action, the same five-sixths of the jurors must agree on all such questions.

(2) When the court directs a verdict, it shall not be necessary for the jury to give their assent to the verdict but the clerk shall enter it as directed by the court as the verdict of the jury.

The trier of fact may base a finding of fact with respect to an issue of negligence in an automobile accident case on a reasonable inference drawn from the physical facts, thereby rejecting the testimony of the only eyewitness, even though such physical facts are capable of permitting more than one inference to be deduced therefrom. (Rule laid down in certain prior cases, modified.) Pagel v. Holewinski, 11 W (2d) 634, 106 NW (2d) 425.

Where, in actions arising out of a collision between 2 automobiles, 10 jurors agreed that both drivers were causally negligent, but only 9 of those 10 agreed on the comparison, the verdict was defective under (1), since it is necessary for at least the same 10 jurors to agree on every question that it is necessary for them to consider in answering the question of comparative negligence, and the same 10 jurors must agree as to the items of causal negligence found and the comparative effect of the causal negligence of the parties in producing the resulting damages. Strupp v. Farmers Mut. Automobile Ins. Co. 14 W (2d) 158, 109 NW (2d) 660.

270.26 Motion for directed verdict waives jury trial. Whenever in a jury trial all the parties, without reservation, move the court to direct a verdict, such motions, unless otherwise directed by the court before discharge of the jury, constitute a stipulation waiving a jury trial and submitting the entire case to the court for decision.

The fact that the parties remaining in a lawsuit move for a directed verdict, and the court accepted the motions as a waiver of a jury, would not prevent one of the parties from assigning as error the fact that the court had earlier granted a third party's motion for directed verdict and dismissed the action as to him. Peterson v. Wingertsmann, 14 W (2d) 455, 111 NW (2d) 436.

270.27 Special verdicts. The court may, and when requested by either party, before the introduction of any testimony in his behalf, shall direct the jury to find a special verdict. Such verdict shall be prepared by the court in the form of written questions, relating only to material issues of fact and admitting a direct answer, to which the jury shall make answer in writing. It shall be discretionary with the court whether to submit such questions in terms of issues of ultimate fact, or to submit separate questions with respect to the component issues which comprise such issues of ultimate fact. In cases founded upon negligence, the court may submit separate questions as to the negligence of each party, and whether such negligence was a cause without submitting separately any particular respect in which the party was allegedly negligent. The court may also direct the jury, if they render a general verdict, to find upon particular questions of fact.

History: Sup. Ct. Order, 11 W (2d) v.

It is not necessary for a question on fraud to be separated into the 4 elements constituting actionable fraud. Rud v. McNamara, 10 W (2d) 41, 102 NW (2d) 243.

In a head-on collision case, where both drivers had the same opportunity of lookout, were driving at the same speed and faced with the same road conditions, the trial court could submit only a question as to position on the highway, and did not err in refusing to submit a question on management and control of one of the drivers. Koruc v. Schroeder, 10 W (2d) 185, 102 NW (2d) 390.

The evidence warranted an instruction given to the jury, referring to testimony relating to a "stinging" sensation on the side of the plaintiff's head, and stating that some of the testimony on this subject consisted of medical opinion based on statements of the plaintiff, and that the jury should consider this opinion evidence with caution and scrutiny, and should make no award of damages based on guess, speculation, or conjecture. Feld v. Vinograd, 10 W (2d) 500, 103 NW (2d) 671.

In an action for injuries where plaintiff was forcibly removed from a council meeting by a police officer, it was error to submit the case on a comparative negligence basis. The only question is whether excessive force was used and whether this caused the injury. Schulze v. Kleeber, 10 W (2d) 540, 103 NW (2d) 560.

Where the issue of racing on the highway was pleaded in only one of 3 cases consolidated for trial, but evidence was presented on the question, the pleadings should have been amended under 269.44 and the issue submitted in the special verdict. A new trial will be ordered under 251.09. Giemza v. Allied American Mut. Fire Ins. Co. 10 W (2d) 555, 103 NW (2d) 538.

Questions submitted to the jury both as to management and control and as to the manner in which the driver of one car passed another car, and which the jury answered in the affirmative, were duplicitous. Giemza v. Allied American Mut. Fire Ins. Co. 10 W (2d) 555, 103 NW (2d) 538.

270.28 Submission to jury; omitted essential fact. When some controverted matter of fact not brought to the attention of the trial court but essential to sustain the judgment is omitted from the verdict, such matter of fact shall be deemed determined by the court in conformity with its judgment and the failure to request a finding by the jury on such matter shall be deemed a waiver of jury trial pro tanto.

The provision that when a controverted matter of fact not brought to the attention of the trial court but essential to sustaining a judgment is omitted from the verdict the question of fact shall be deemed determined by the trial court in conformity with the judgment, was not applicable where the

A question submitted to the jury, asking whether at or prior to a collision between two cars the driver of another car was negligent in respect to the manner "in which he passed" one of such cars, was defective as assuming that he had passed the car prior to the collision, when the testimony on this point was in conflict and unresolved. Giemza v. Allied American Mut. Fire Ins. Co. 10 W (2d) 555, 103 NW (2d) 538.

The failure of the jury to answer questions of the special verdict as to whether a motorist involved in a collision was negligent with respect to position on the highway and lookout was tantamount to a negative answer in each of these particulars. Rude v. Algiers, 11 W (2d) 471, 105 NW (2d) 825.

A verdict is not duplicitous which asks both as to negligence in making a left turn and lookout. Rasmussen v. Garthus, 12 W (2d) 203, 107 NW (2d) 264.

The duty created by 346.34 (1), prohibiting a left turn into a private driveway unless and until such turn can be made with reasonable safety, should not be broken down into lookout and management and control as separate acts of negligence, the rule applicable thereto being that, when an inquiry is made in the form of the special verdict of a statutory duty which includes several elements of conduct, one of those elements should not also be made the subject of a separate inquiry. Grana v. Summerford, 12 W (2d) 517, 107 NW (2d) 463.

Where the trial court answered a question as to negligence of one party as a matter of law and failed to do so as to the other party, but left the question of causation to the jury under proper instructions, the supreme court will refuse to believe that the jury gave disproportionate weight to the court's answer in the absence of clear indication that it did so. Niedbalski v. Cuchna, 13 W (2d) 308, 108 NW (2d) 576.

A verdict cannot be sustained where the jury apparently gave the husband an award for personal injuries when he had none and nothing for loss of consortium although his wife was injured. Jennings v. Safeguard Ins. Co. 13 W (2d) 427, 109 NW (2d) 90.

court did not enter a judgment but, instead, declined to rule on the question of fact, stated that he could not decide the issue as matter of law, and granted a new trial. Garcia v. Samson's, Inc. 10 W (2d) 515, 103 NW (2d) 565.

270.29 Jury to assess damages, judgment on the pleadings. When a verdict is for the plaintiff in an action for the recovery of money, or for the defendant when a counterclaim is established beyond the amount of the plaintiff's claim as established, the jury must assess the amount of the recovery. The jury may also, under direction of the court, assess the amount of the damages where the court orders judgment on the pleadings.

270.30 Verdict, entry of; special finding governs. Every verdict and special finding of facts shall be entered on the minutes and when in writing be filed with the clerk. When a special finding of facts shall be inconsistent with the general verdict the former shall control the latter, and the court shall give judgment accordingly.

270.31 Entry by clerk as to trial and judgment. Upon receiving a verdict the clerk shall make an entry on his minutes specifying the time and place of the trial, the names of the jurors and witnesses, the verdict, and either the judgment rendered thereon or an order that the cause be reserved for argument or further consideration. If a different direction be not given by the court the clerk must enter judgment in conformity with the verdict. If a counterclaim, established at the trial, exceed the plaintiff's demand so established judgment for the defendant must be given for the excess; or if it appears that defendant is entitled to any other affirmative relief judgment must be given accordingly.

270.32 Jury trial, how waived. Trial by jury may be waived by the several parties to an issue of fact by failing to appear at the trial; or by written consent filed with the clerk; or by consent in open court, entered in the minutes.

270.33 Trial by court; findings, judgment. Upon a trial of an issue of fact by the court, its decision shall be given in writing and filed with the clerk within sixty days after submission of the cause, and shall state separately the facts found and the conclusions of law thereon; and judgment shall be entered accordingly.

In proceedings on motions after judgment granting a divorce to a wife on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment, the trial court had the power to amend its findings of fact and conclusions of law nunc pro tunc. Hirmer v. Hirmer, 10 W (2d) 365, 103 NW (2d) 55.

See note to 270.25, citing Pagel v. Holewinski, 11 W (2d) 634, 106 NW (2d) 425. Where the formal findings of fact by the trial court do not cover a point, a statement covering the point in the memorandum opinion of the court has the weight of a finding of fact. Morn v. Schalk, 14 W (2d) 307, 111 NW (2d) 80.

270.34 Trial by referee. (1) Except in actions for divorce or annulment of marriages all or any of the issues in the action may be referred, upon the written consent of the parties. The court may upon application of either party or of its own motion, direct a reference of all or any of the issues in the following cases:

(a) When the trial of an issue of fact shall require the examination of a long account; in which case the referee may be directed to hear and decide the whole issue or to report upon any specific question of fact involved therein; or

(b) When the taking of an account shall be necessary for the information of the court before judgment or for carrying a judgment or order into effect.

(2) When a reference has been ordered, either party may deliver to the referee a certified copy of the order of reference, and the referee shall thereupon appoint a time and place for the trial, and give notice thereof to the parties; such time to be not less than ten nor more than thirty days after the delivery of the copy of such order, unless the proceeding before the referee be ex parte or some other time be appointed by written stipulation of the parties, with the assent of the referee, or unless the court shall otherwise order.

(3) All action upon a referee's report shall be upon notice.

270.35 Powers of referee. The trial by referee shall be conducted in the same manner as a trial by the court. They shall have the same power to grant adjournments and allow amendments to any pleadings as the court upon such trial, upon the same terms and with the like effect. They shall also have the same power to preserve order and punish all violations thereof upon such trial, and to compel the attendance of witnesses before them by attachment and to punish them as for a contempt for nonattendance or refusal to be sworn or testify, as is possessed by the court; and they shall give to the parties or their attorneys at least eight days' notice of the time and place of trial; they must state the facts found and conclusions of law separately and report their findings, together with all the evidence taken by them and all exceptions taken on the hearing, to the court; and the court may review such report and on motion enter judgment thereon or set aside, alter or modify the same and enter judgment upon the same so altered or modified, and may require the referees to amend their report when necessary. The judgment so entered by the court may be appealed from to the appellate court in like manner as from judgments in other cases, and the report of the referees may be incorporated with the bill of exceptions. When the reference is to report the facts the report shall have the effect of a special verdict.

270.36 Referee, how selected. In all cases of reference the parties, except when an infant may be a party, may agree upon a suitable person or persons, not exceeding three, and the reference shall be ordered accordingly, and if the parties do not agree the court shall appoint one or more referees, not exceeding three, who shall be free from exception.

270.37 Proceedings if referee's report not filed. If neither party move for a judgment within one year from the date of the referee's report the action shall be dismissed or a new trial ordered, on motion of any party; provided, such motion shall not be made until two terms of court shall have been held subsequent to the date of such report.

270.39 Exceptions. In any trial before the court, with or without a jury, or before a referee, exceptions are deemed taken to all adverse rulings and orders made in the course of the trial. No express exceptions need be entered in any bill of exceptions. It shall not be necessary to file exceptions to the judge's charge to the jury or to his refusal to instruct the jury as requested, or to any orders, or to the findings of fact and conclusions of law made by the court, and the same may be reviewed by the appellate court without exceptions; but any party who expressly requests any finding of fact, conclusion of law, instruction to the jury or ruling or order shall not be heard to question its correctness on appeal. This shall not, however, limit the power of the supreme court under s. 251.09.

270.43 Bill of exceptions authorized. After trial of an issue of fact, a bill of exceptions may be settled as provided in this section and s. 270.44. The bill of exceptions, when settled, shall be signed by the judge before whom the issue was tried or the referee's report reviewed (whether he is still in office or not) and it shall thereby become a part of the record. It shall be filed with the clerk.

270.44 Settlement of bill of exceptions. Any party may propose a bill of exceptions. Unless the parties stipulate otherwise, it shall include all the evidence with the testimony set forth by question and answer, as in the reporter's notes, and the oral proceedings had on the trial and the oral rulings and decisions of the court or referee not otherwise reduced to writing and filed with the clerk. He shall serve a copy thereof on the adverse party and, if there are adverse parties united in interest, then upon such as the trial judge designates, and he shall give notice of such service to each of the other adverse parties united in interest. If there are adverse parties not united in interest, service of the proposed bill shall be made upon each of them. Within 10 days after service upon him, any party may serve proposed amendments upon all other parties. Thereupon the trial judge may settle the bill at any time and place, upon notice thereof served by any party on all the interested parties, not less than 4 nor more than 20 days prior to such time. If no amendments are served within the time allowed, the proposed bill may be signed by the judge on proof of its service as aforesaid and that no amendment has been served. If proposed amendments are served and accepted the proposed bill as so amended may be signed by the judge, on proof made of its service and of the service of the amendments and of their acceptance.

270.47 Time for service of bill of exceptions. After judgment is perfected either party may serve upon the other a written notice of the entry thereof; and service of a proposed bill of exceptions, by either party, must be made within ninety days after service of such notice. If a bill of exceptions be proposed with a view to an appeal from an order it must be served within ninety days after service of a copy of such order and written notice of the entry thereof.

See note to 269.45, citing Jolitz v. Graff, 12 W (2d) 52, 106 NW (2d) 340.

270.48 Bill of exceptions; settlement after death or incapacity of trial judge; new trial. (1) If the trial judge shall die, remove from the state, or become incapacitated to act, the bill of exceptions may be settled by stipulation of the parties. If they cannot agree thereon, then the presiding judge of the court shall settle such bill and he may take testimony and determine any dispute relative to the proceedings had on the trial.

(2) The presiding judge may, upon notice, extend the time for settling the bill the same as the trial judge might have done.

(3) If the presiding judge would have been disqualified the party proposing such bill may designate a judge of an adjoining circuit, who shall settle the same in the manner provided in this section; or he may move for a new trial and the court may grant a new trial upon condition that he pay the costs taxed in the judgment, provided the motion is made at the first term of court succeeding the death or disability of the trial judge, and is accompanied by his affidavit that the application is made in good faith and not for the purpose of delay.

270.49 Motion for new trial on minutes. (1) The trial judge may entertain a motion to be made on his minutes, to set aside a verdict and grant a new trial because of errors in the trial or because the verdict is contrary to law or to the evidence, or for excessive or inadequate damages or in the interest of justice; but such motion must be made and heard within sixty days after the verdict is rendered, unless the court by order made before its expiration extends such time for cause. When an appeal is taken from the order on such motion a bill of exceptions must be settled. Such motion, if not decided within the time allowed therefor, shall be deemed overruled. In case judgment be entered without deciding a pending motion for a new trial, the supreme court may direct the trial court to determine such motion within sixty days after notice of filing the remittitur.

(2) Every order granting a new trial shall specify the grounds therefor. In the absence of such specification, the order shall be deemed granted for error on the trial. No order granting a new trial in the interest of justice shall be valid or effective, unless the reasons that prompted the court to make such order are set forth in detail therein or the memorandum decision setting forth such reasons is incorporated by reference in such order. The court may grant or deny costs to either party.

(3) All motions for new trials shall be reduced to writing and filed before being heard.

History: 1961 c. 494.

Cross Reference: For limitation on granting of new trials, see 274.37.

The written decision of the trial court, which stated that the court was of the opinion that the jury, which apportioned 50 per cent of the causal negligence to the injured child, did not understand the lower standard of care required of a child who was less than one month over 6 years of age at the time of the accident, and which decision summarized the pertinent evidence, sufficiently stated the reasons for granting a new trial in the interest of justice to comply with the requirements of (2). Bair v. Staats, 10 W (2d) 70, 102 NW (2d) 267.

Where an excessive verdict is not due to perversity or prejudice, and is not the result of error occurring during the course of trial, the plaintiff should be granted the option of remitting the excess over and above such sum as the court determines is the reasonable amount of the plaintiff's damages, or of having a new trial on the issue of damages. [Heimlich v. Tabor, 123 W 565, and Campbell v. Sutliff, 193 W 370, so far as holding that such a rule violates the defendant's constitutional right to a trial by jury, overruled.] Powers v. Allstate Ins. Co. 10 W (2d) 78, 102 NW (2d) 393.

The jury could consider that what pain, if any, a party suffered was not sufficient to be compensated with money, and the jury's finding to such effect did not render the verdict perverse or the result of passion or prejudice, bearing in mind also that the jury did recognize the party's damages for loss of earnings and discriminated between the damage questions, and was uninfluenced by its answers to the negligence questions. When a jury has absolved a defendant of causal negligence, which finding is supported by credible evidence, the denial of damages or the granting of inadequate damages to the plaintiff does not necessarily show prejudice or render the verdict perverse. Dickman v. Schaeffer, 10 W (2d) 610, 103 NW (2d) 922.

An award of $6,500 to a husband, 56 years old, as pecuniary loss for the death of his wife, 51 years old, who helped with the work on their farm, and who also worked out, mainly to contribute money for a son to go to college, and whose outside earnings averaged $1,400 per year during the last 5 calendar years of her life, was not generous, but was not so inadequate as to require a new trial. Martell v. Klingman, 11 W (2d) 296, 105 NW (2d) 446.

An award of $8,100, approved by the trial court, to a school teacher who suffered severe injuries with resulting permanent injuries consisting of a scar extending through both of her eyebrows and across the bridge of her nose, and a thickening at the point of juncture of her broken cleft clavicle and sternum, is deemed not excessive although high. Itching and irritation at a place on her left forehead, resulting from her scar injury, could not be considered as of a permanent nature for the purpose of awarding damages, in the absence of any medical testimony that this was permanent. Rude v. Algiers, 11 W (2d) 471, 105 NW (2d) 825.

An award of $2,000 to a school teacher who sustained injuries consisting in part of a cut one and one-half inches in length on her chin and another cut two and one-half inches in length on her left knee, the temporary loosening of three teeth, and bruises and abrasions distributed over her body, with permanent injuries consisting only of the scars on the chin and knee, is deemed not excessive although high. Rude v. Algiers, 11 W (2d) 471, 105 NW (2d) 825.

In an action to recover for personal injuries sustained when a pet monkey owned by the defendant bit the left index finger of the plaintiff, the award of damages of $650 for personal injuries is grossly inadequate. Podoll v. Smith, 11 W (2d) 583, 106 NW (2d) 332.

An award of $16,000 to a man who suffered broken legs and ribs which would cause permanent pain and impede him in his work as an automobile mechanic, a fractured skull, and a permanent limp, and whose life expectancy was 16.40 years at the time of the trial, was not excessive. Bauman v. Gilbertson, 11 W (2d) 627, 106 NW (2d) 298.

If the answer to one material question of a special verdict plainly shows that the jury made the answer perversely, the trial court may well set aside the verdict unless satisfied that the answers to the other questions were not affected by such perversity. Kuentzel v. State Farm Mut. Automobile Ins. Co. 12 W (2d) 72, 106 NW (2d) 324.

Where plaintiff suffered a permanent injury to the back plus wasting of shoulder muscles and limitation of motion in the arm, but the evidence indicated some arthritis and disc degeneration, an award of $2,000 for permanent injuries, while low, was sustained. Konieczki v. Great American Indemnity Co. 12 W (2d) 311, 107 NW (2d) 138.

An award of $18,000, approved by the trial court, to a married woman, 23 years old at the time of the automobile collision in which she received a whiplash injury to her neck, for constant pain which would increase and be permanent, disability to perform the tasks of a housewife, to continue in employment, and to enjoy the activities of which she was formerly capable, is deemed not excessive. Thompson v. Nee, 12 W (2d) 326, 107 NW (2d) 150.

Where plaintiff suffered a crushed vertebra and severe fracture of an ankle resulting in an operation to stiffen the ankle and severe pain for several years, an award of $42,000 was excessive and a reduction to $30,000 reasonable. Burmek v. Miller Brewing Co. 12 W (2d) 405, 107 NW (2d) 583.

Under the evidence in the case, the trial court did not abuse its discretion in determining, on its own motion, that the jury's award of $1,500 for the parents' loss of the society and companionship of their deceased daughter, 20 years of age, was unreasonably low, and increasing the award to $2,000. The evidence would permit a reasonable inference of financial help and assistance that a deceased daughter, after graduation from college, would have made to her parents toward the education of her sister, but the jury's award of $3,000 to the parents for pecuniary loss was excessive under the evidence, and the trial court's reduction of the award to $2,000, together with granting an option for a new trial in the alternative, was proper. Gustafson v. Bertschinger, 12 W (2d) 630, 108 NW (2d) 273.

Where a child, openly associated with defendant and his counsel, was late in the trial discovered to be the child of the foreman of the jury and this fact was reported to the court but no motion for mistrial made, the trial court could properly grant a new trial in the interest of justice after verdict finding no negligence. O'Connor v. Brahmstead, 13 W (2d) 432, 108 NW (2d) 920.

Surprise, as such, is not ground for a new trial in the interest of justice. The plaintiff had no right to rely on the position taken by the defendant on motion for summary judgment which was changed at the trial, and it was not an abuse of discretion by the trial court to refuse a new trial. Becker v. La Crosse, 13 W (2d) 542, 109 NW (2d) 102.

An award of $22,500 to a man for personal injuries which included 2 broken thigh bones, a fractured knee, and a fractured jaw, necessitating extensive surgery, and resulting in a permanent restriction of motion in the knee, limbs of unequal length, and atrophy of one thigh, was not excessive. Walker v. Baker, 13 W (2d) 637, 109 NW

(2d) 499.

The rule of Powers v. Allstate Ins. Co. 10 W (2d) 73, applied to compensatory damages, extends to punitive damages, so that a trial court, in case of an excessive award by the jury, has the power to reduce the amount of punitive damages to what the court determines is a fair and reasonable amount for such kind of damages, and to grant to the party entitled to such damages the option to accept such amount or have a new trial. In determining whether punitive damages assessed by the jury are excessive, consideration should be given to the wrongdoer's ability to pay and the grievousness of his acts, the degree of malicious intention, and potential damage which might have been done by such acts as well as the actual damage. Malco v. Midwest Aluminum Sales, 14 W (2d) 57, 109 NW (2d) 516.

Applicable to error in granting a directed verdict is the rule that no error of the court should be reviewable as a matter of right on appeal without first moving in the trial court for a new trial bottomed on such error, if the error is of a category that a trial court could correct it by granting a new trial. [Reserved for future decision is the question of whether the stated rule should be extended to errors committed by a court in a trial to the court.] Peterson v. Wingertsman, 14 W (2d) 455, 111 NW (2d) 436.

(1), which is limited to setting aside a verdict on specified grounds, is not so restrictive as to preclude a trial court from granting a new trial on other grounds. Peterson v. Wingertsman, 14 W (2d) 455, 111 NW (2d) 436.

Where both plaintiff and defendants summoned a certain person as a witness, and defendants claimed surprise when such person took the stand for the plaintiff and changed his story, but counsel for defendants had an opportunity and did cross-examine such witness, the surprise thus shown by the defendants was not the type of surprise which warrants the granting of a new trial in the interest of justice. Birnamwood Oil Co. v. Arrowhead Asso. 14 W (2d) 657, 112 NW (2d) 185.

New trial, because the verdict is contrary to the evidence or in the interest of justice or both, discussed. 1959 WLR 360.

270.50 Motion for new trial on newly discovered evidence. A motion for a new trial founded upon newly discovered evidence may be heard upon affidavits and the papers in the action. In case of an appeal the bill of exceptions must be settled as provided in section 270.49. Such a motion may be made at any time within one year from the verdict or finding.

270.52 Irregularities in venires, etc., immaterial. No irregularity in any writ of venire facias or in the drawing, summoning, returning or impaneling of petit jurors shall be sufficient to set aside a verdict unless the party making the objection was injured by the irregularity or unless the objection was made before the returning of the verdict.

270.53 Judgment and order defined. (1) A judgment is the final determination of the rights of the parties in the action.

(2) Every direction of a court or judge made or entered in writing and not included in a judgment is denominated an order.

Whether a written direction of a court constitutes a judgment or an order is not to be determined by the designation that the court which entered the same may have placed thereon. Distinction between order and judgment discussed. State v. Donohue, 11 W (2d) 517, 105 NW (2d) 844.

As used in (2), denominating an order as being every direction of a court or judge made or entered in writing and not included in a judgment, the word "direction" is not to be construed narrowly so as to be confinned as to an express command but, rather, should be interpreted broadly to embrace a ruling or adjudication as well. A memorandum opinion or decision may constitute an order if it in fact constitutes the final ruling of the court, but it is much the preferable practice for trial courts to draft and enter a separate order apart from the memorandum decision embodying the adjudication determined on. Estate of Baumgarten, 12 W (2d) 212, 107 NW (2d) 169.

270.54 Judgment for or between defendants; interlocutory. Judgment may be given for or against one or more of several defendants or in favor of one or more of several plaintiffs, and it may determine the ultimate rights of the parties on each side, as between themselves, either on cross complaint or equivalent pleadings or otherwise, and may grant to the defendant any affirmative relief to which he may be entitled. In an action against several defendants the court may, in its discretion, render judgment against one or more of them, leaving the action to proceed against the others whenever a several judgment may be proper. The court may also dismiss the complaint, with costs, in favor of one or more defendants in case of unreasonable neglect on the part of the plaintiff to serve the summons on other defendants or to proceed in the cause against the defendant or defendants served. In case of a finding or decision substantially disposing of the merits, but leaving an account to be taken, or issue of fact to be decided or some condition to be performed, in order fully to determine the rights of the parties, an interlocutory judgment may be made, disposing of all issues covered by the finding or decision, and reserving further question until the report, verdict or subsequent finding.

270.55 Judgment when all defendants not served. When the action is against two or more defendants and the summons is served on some, but not on all of them, the plaintiff may proceed as follows:

(1) If the action be against several persons jointly indebted he may proceed against the defendant served unless the court shall otherwise direct, and, if he recover judgment, it may be entered in form against all the defendants jointly indebted and may be enforced against the joint property of all and the separate property of the defendant served.

(2) In any action against defendants severally liable he may proceed against the defendants served in the same manner as if they were the only defendants.

(3) A judgment entered under subsection (1) shall not bar an action against the debtors who were not served but judgment in such action shall not be entered until execution has been returned unsatisfied in whole or in part in the prior action and then only for the sum still due the plaintiff on the joint debt.

270.56 Judgment when all not liable. When it shall appear on the trial of an action on contract or tort against several defendants, sought to be charged as jointly or jointly and severally liable, that some were liable and others not judgment may be rendered against either or any of the defendants found liable to the plaintiff at the commencement of the action, and in favor of such as may be found not liable, and costs awarded in the discretion of the court.

270.57 Measure of relief. The relief granted to the plaintiff, if there be no answer, cannot exceed that which he shall have demanded in his complaint; but in any other case the court may grant him any relief consistent with the case made by the complaint and embraced within the issue.

270.58 State and political subdivisions thereof to pay judgments taken against officers. (1) Where the defendant in any action, writ or special proceeding is a public officer and is proceeded against in his official capacity and the jury or the court finds that he acted in good faith the judgment as to damages and costs entered against the officer shall be paid by the state or political subdivision of which he is an officer. Reasonable attorney's fees shall also be paid by the political subdivision in false arrest cases where such governmental unit does not provide legal counsel to the defendant officer. Deputy sheriffs in those counties where they serve not at the will of the sheriff but on civil service basis shall be covered by this subsection, except that the provision relating to payment of the judgment shall be discretionary and not mandatory. In such counties the judgment as to damages and costs may be paid by the county if approved by the county board.

(2) Any town officer held personally liable for reimbursement of any public funds paid out in good faith pursuant to the directions of electors at any annual or special town meeting shall be reimbursed by the town for the amount of the judgment for damages and costs entered against him.

History: 1961 c. 499.

270.59 Judgment in replevin. In any action of replevin judgment for the plaintiff may be for the possession or for the recovery of possession of the property, or the value thereof in case a delivery cannot be had, and of damages for the detention; and when the property shall have been delivered to the defendant, under section 265.06, judgment may be as aforesaid or absolutely for the value thereof at the plaintiff's option, and damages for the detention. If the property shall have been delivered to the plaintiff under chapter 265 and the defendant prevails, judgment for the defendant may be for a return of the property or the value thereof, at his option, and damages for taking and withholding the same.

270.60 Judgment in replevin against principal and sureties. The judgment in replevin may be entered both against the principal and the sureties on his bond for a return or delivery of the property, as prescribed in chapter 265; and where the officer, to whom the execution thereon is directed, cannot find sufficient property of the principal to satisfy the same, he shall satisfy it out of the property of such sureties; and the execution shall so direct.

270.61 Damages in actions on bonds, etc. In all actions brought for the breach of the conditions of a bond or to recover a penalty for nonperformance of any covenant or agreement if the plaintiff recover his damages shall be assessed and judgment entered for the amount thereof, and enforced as in other actions upon contract. No such judgment shall conclude any claim upon such bond, covenant or agreement not embraced in the pleadings or be a discharge of the penal sum beyond the amount of damages recovered thereby. This section does not apply to actions regulated by chapter 19.

270.62 Default judgment. (1) NATURE OF DEFAULT. A default judgment may be entered as provided in this section if no issue of law or fact has been joined and if the time for joining issue has expired.

(2) GENERAL. Upon filing with the court the summons and complaint and proof of service of the summons on one or more of the defendants and an affidavit that the defendant is in default according to subsection (1), the plaintiff may apply to the court for judgment according to the demand of the complaint. If taking an account or the proof of any fact is necessary to enable the court to give judgment, a reference may be ordered to take such account or proof and to report the same to the court, and such reference may be executed anywhere in the state; or the court may take the accounts or hear the proof. The court may order damages to be assessed by a jury. If the defendant has appeared in the action, he shall be entitled to notice of the application for judgment.

(3) ACTIONS ON CONTRACT FOR MONEY ONLY. In any action on contract for the recovery of money only, the plaintiff may file with the clerk the summons and complaint, proof of personal service of the summons on one or more of the defendants and an affidavit that the defendant is in default according to subsection (1). The clerk shall thereupon enter judgment for the amount demanded in the complaint against the defendants who are in default. Leaving the summons at the abode of a defendant is not personal service within this subsection.

(4) IN CASE OF PUBLICATION. If service of summons is made without the state or by publication and the defendant is a nonresident, the plaintiff or his agent shall be examined on oath as to any payments that may have been made to or for the plaintiff on account of the demand and the court shall render judgment for the amount which he is entitled to recover but not exceeding the relief demanded in the complaint; and before entering judgment the court may require the plaintiff to file security to abide the order of the court requiring restitution of any property delivered to the plaintiff under the judgment in case the defendant defends the action and succeeds in his defense.

Cross Reference: For time required for notice under (2), see 269.31.

270.63 Judgment on admitted claim; order to satisfy. In an action arising on a contract for the recovery of money only if the answer admits any part of the plaintiff's claim or if such answer sets up a counterclaim or set-off for an amount less than the plaintiff's claim and contains no other defense to the action the clerk, on the application of the plaintiff and five days' notice to the defendant, shall enter judgment for the amount so admitted or for the amount claimed in the complaint, after deducting the amount of the defendant's counterclaim or set-off. When the defendant admits part of the plaintiff's claim to be just the court may, on motion, order such defendant to satisfy that part of the claim and may enforce the order as it enforces a judgment or provisional remedy.

270.635 Summary judgments. (1) Summary judgment may be entered as provided in this section in any civil action or special proceeding. Notice of motion for summary judgment and the papers in support thereof shall be served within 40 days after issue is joined, subject to enlargement of time as provided in s. 269.45.

(2) The judgment may be entered in favor of either party, on motion, upon the affidavit of any person who has knowledge thereof, setting forth such evidentiary facts, including documents or copies thereof, as shall, if the motion is by the plaintiff, establish his cause of action sufficiently to entitle him to judgment; and, if on behalf of the defendant, such evidentiary facts, including documents or copies thereof, as shall show that his denials or defenses are sufficient to defeat the plaintiff, together with the affidavit of the moving party, either that he believes that there is no defense to the action or that the action has no merit (as the case may be) unless the opposing party shall, by affidavit or other proof, show facts which the court shall deem sufficient to entitle him to a trial.

(3) Upon motion by a defendant, if it shall appear to the court that the plaintiff is entitled to a summary judgment, it may be awarded to him even though he has not moved therefor.

(4) If the proofs submitted, on the motion, convince the court that the only triable issue of fact is the amount of damages for which judgment should be granted, an immediate hearing to determine such amount shall be ordered to be tried by a referee or by the court alone or by the court and a jury, whichever shall be appropriate; and, upon the determination of the amount of damages, judgment shall be entered.

(5) Should it appear to the satisfaction of the court at any time that any of the affidavits presented pursuant to this rule are presented in bad faith or solely for the purpose of delay, the court may forthwith order the party employing them to pay the other party double motion costs and the amount of the reasonable expenses which the filing of the affidavits caused him to incur. This subsection shall not be construed as abridging or modifying any other power of the court.

(6) When an answer alleges a defense which is prima facie established by documents or public records, judgment may be entered for the defendant unless the plaintiff shows facts sufficient to raise an issue with respect to the verity or conclusiveness of such documents or records.

(7) This section is applicable to counterclaims the same as though they were independent actions; but the court may withhold judgment on a counterclaim until other issues in the action are determined.

History: Sup. Ct. Order, 11 W (2d) vi.

It is not the duty of one opposing summary judgment to prove his case or to put in all his evidence on summary judgment, and he defeats the motion if he shows by affidavit or other proof that there are substantial issues of fact or reasonable inferences which can be drawn from the evidence. Voysey v. Labisky, 10 W (2d) 274, 103 NW (2d) 9.

Procedure for considering depositions in motion for summary judgment and for including in record on appeal discussed. Kanios v. Frederick, 10 W (2d) 358, 103 NW (2d) 114.

Summary judgment should be denied where facts are in dispute and where there is a jury question whether an uneven sinking of a sidewalk below the bottom of a step leading into a tavern was a sidewalk defect and caused plaintiff's injuries. Goelz v. Milwaukee, 10 W (2d) 491, 103 NW (2d) 551.

It is proper to incorporate parts of an adverse examination into a motion for or against summary judgment, but counsel should specify the parts on which he relies where the deposition is voluminous. Hyland Hall & Co. v. Madison G. & E. Co. 11 W (2d) 238, 105 NW (2d) 305.

Although summary judgment generally goes to the merits, it does not do so when based on a plea in abatement. Truesdill v. Roach, 11 W (2d) 492, 105 NW (2d) 871.

Summary judgment should be granted dismissing an action against an employer whose employe, involved in an accident, was using his own car for his own convenience and not in performing his work, although on the job at the time. Strack v. Strack, 12 W (2d) 537, 107 NW (2d) 632.

In an action for breach of warranty, an affidavit by the supplier of the alleged defective tire that there was no agency relationship between the seller and supplier was a statement of ultimate fact, not an evidentiary fact, and not sufficient, if undisputed, to establish a defense as a matter of law. Wojciuk v. United States Rubber Co. 13 W (2d) 173, 103 NW (2d) 149.

270.64 Judgment after law issue tried. When the plaintiff is entitled to judgment after trial upon an issue of law he may proceed in the manner prescribed in section 270.62 or according to such order for judgment as the court may have made. If the defendant be entitled to judgment after a like trial he may proceed according to such order therefor as may have been likewise made and the court may take any account, or hear proof, or order a reference or an assessment of damages by a jury, when necessary to enable the court to complete the judgment.

270.65 Judgment, signing and entry. Except where the clerk is authorized to enter judgment without the direction of the court, the judgment shall be entered by the clerk upon the direction of the court. The judge, or the clerk upon the order of the court, may sign the judgment.

270.66 Costs when taxed; executions. Within 60 days after filing of a verdict on which the clerk is authorized to enter judgment without an order, or within 60 days after an order to enter judgment is filed, the successful party may tax costs and perfect the judgment and cause it to be entered and if he fails so to do the clerk of the court shall prepare and enter the proper judgment, but without costs. If there be a stay of proceedings after the filing of the findings or verdict, judgment may be perfected at any time within 60 days after the expiration of such stay. If the parties agree to settle all issues but fail to file an order of dismissal the judge may direct the clerk to draft an order dismissing the action. No execution shall issue until the judgment is perfected by the taxation of costs and the insertion of the amount thereof in the judgment or until the expiration of the time for taxing costs.

270.67 Restitution in case of reversed judgment; purchaser for value. If any judgment or part of a judgment be collected and such judgment be afterwards set aside or reversed the trial court shall order the same to be restored with interest from the time of the collection, but in case a new trial is ordered the party who has collected such judgment may retain the same pending such new trial, upon giving a bond in such sum and with such sureties as the court shall order, conditioned for the restoration of the amount collected with interest from the time of collection. The order of restitution may be obtained upon proof of the facts upon notice and motion and may be enforced as a judgment. Nothing herein shall affect or impair the right or title of a purchaser for value in good faith without notice.

270.68 Same. Whenever in a civil action on appeal to the supreme court the appellant shall have omitted to stay execution and pending such appeal the sheriff or other officer shall collect all or any part of the judgment appealed from the officer collecting the same shall deposit the amount so collected, less his fees, with the clerk of the court out of which execution issued. In case of reversal on such appeal restitution may be made in accordance with the provisions of section 270.67. In case of affirmance the clerk shall pay over such deposit to the judgment creditor on the filing of the remittitur from the supreme court.

270.69 Judgment without action; warrant of attorney. (1) A judgment upon a bond or promissory note may be rendered, without action, either for money due or to become due, or to secure any person against contingent liability on behalf of the defendant or both, in the manner prescribed in this section.

(2) The plaintiff shall file his complaint and an answer signed by the defendant or some attorney in his behalf, confessing the amount claimed in the complaint or some part thereof, and such bond or note and, in case such answer is signed by an attorney, an instrument authorizing judgment to be confessed. The plaintiff or some one in his behalf shall make and annex to the complaint an affidavit stating the amount due or to become due on the note or bond, or if such note or bond is given to secure any contingent liability the affidavit must state concisely the facts constituting such liability and must show that the sum confessed does not exceed the same. The judgment shall be signed by the court or a judge and shall be thereupon entered and docketed by the clerk and enforced in the same manner as judgments in other cases.

270.70 Entry of judgment or order defined. The filing of the judgment or order of either the circuit or county court in the office of the clerk constitutes the entry of the judgment or order.

History: 1961 c. 495.

270.71 Judgment and order; specific requirements; recorded. (1) Each judgment shall specify clearly the relief granted or other determination of the action, and the place of abode of each party to the action and his occupation, trade or profession, as accurately as can be ascertained.

(2) All judgments, orders and reports which purport to finally dispose of an action or proceeding or which the judge orders to be recorded shall be recorded in the judgment book.

270.72 Case file. The clerk, immediately after entering the judgment, shall attach together and file the summons, pleadings and all orders and papers in any way involving the merits and necessarily affecting the judgment.

270.73 Judgments on municipal orders. No judgment shall be rendered in any action brought upon any county, town, city, village or school order, unless the order upon which said action is based is produced in evidence and filed with the court or with the clerk thereof, and the clerk notes upon each order the date of such filing. Any order so filed shall not be removed from the files without an order of the court or presiding judge. Any judgment rendered in violation of this section shall be absolutely void.

270.74 Judgment docket. At the time of entry of a judgment directing in whole or in part the payment of money the clerk shall enter in a judgment docket, either arranged alphabetically or accompanied by an alphabetical index, in books to be provided by the county and kept by him, a docket of such judgment containing:

(1) The name at length of each judgment debtor, with his place of abode and vocation. If the judgment fails to give the place of abode and the vocation of the judgment debtor, the judgment creditor may at any time file with the clerk an affidavit stating, on knowledge or information and belief, such place of abode and vocation; and the clerk shall thereupon enter the facts according to the affidavit in the docket, noting the date and hour of such entry.

(2) The name of the judgment creditor, in like manner.

- (3) The name of the attorney for the judgment creditor, if stated in the record.
- (4) The date of the entry of the judgment.
- (5) The day and hour of entering such docket.
- (6) The amount of the debt, damages or other sum of money recovered, with the costs.
- (7) If the judgment be against several persons such statement shall be repeated under the name of each person against whom the judgment was rendered, in the alphabetical order of their names, respectively, when the docket is arranged alphabetically, or entered in the index under the name of each such person when the docket is kept with an alphabetical index accompanying.

270.745 Delinquent income tax docket. At the time of filing the warrant provided by section 71.13 (3) or 71.11 (23), the clerk shall enter in the delinquent income tax docket, either arranged alphabetically or accompanied by an alphabetical index, in books to be provided by the county and kept by such clerk, a docket of such warrant containing:

- (1) The name at length of each delinquent income tax debtor, with his place of abode, title and trade or profession, if any such be stated in the warrant.
- (2) The date of the warrant.
- (3) The day and hour of entering such docket.
- (4) The amount of delinquent income taxes with interest, penalties and costs as set forth in the warrant.
- (5) If the warrant be against several persons such statement shall be repeated under the name of each person against whom the warrant was issued, in the alphabetical order of their names, respectively, when the docket is arranged alphabetically, or entered in the index under the name of each such person when the docket is kept with an alphabetical index accompanying.

270.75 Transcript of justice's judgment. The clerk of the circuit court shall, upon the production to him of a duly certified transcript of a judgment for more than ten dollars, exclusive of costs, rendered by any justice of the peace in his county, forthwith file the same and docket such judgment in the docket of the court in the manner prescribed in section 270.74. When the transcript shall show that execution was stayed in the justice's court, with the name of the surety thereof, the clerk shall docket the judgment against such surety as well as the judgment debtor, and such surety shall be bound thereby as a judgment debtor and his property be subject to lien and be liable thereon to the same extent as his principal. Every such judgment, from the time of such filing of the transcript thereof, shall be deemed the judgment of the circuit court, be equally under the control thereof and be carried into execution, both as to the principal judgment debtor and his surety, if any, in the same manner and with like effect as the judgments thereof, except that no action can be brought upon the same as a judgment of such court nor execution issued thereon after the expiration of the period of the lien thereof on real estate provided by section 270.79.

270.76 Judgments docketed in other counties. When a judgment is docketed as provided in ss. 270.69, 270.74 and 270.75, or a warrant is docketed as provided in ss. 108.22 (2) and 270.745, it may be docketed in like manner in any other county, upon filing with the clerk of the circuit court thereof a transcript from the original docket, certified to be a true copy therefrom by the clerk of the circuit court having custody thereof.

270.78 Enforcement of real estate judgment in other counties. Whenever a judgment affecting real property is rendered in any county other than that in which such property is situate the trial court may, at any time, order that the judgment with all papers filed and copies of entries, orders and minutes made in the action, shall be by its clerk certified and transmitted to and filed by the clerk of the circuit court of the county where such property is situate; or order that certified copies thereof be so transmitted and filed and upon such filing such judgment may be enforced in such circuit court, with the same force and effect as if such judgment had been originally entered therein. The trial court shall have concurrent jurisdiction to enforce such judgment when certified copies of the papers shall be so transmitted.

270.79 Lien of judgment; priority; statute may be suspended. (1) Every judgment, when properly docketed, and the docket gives the judgment debtor's place of abode and his occupation, trade or profession shall, for 10 years from the date of the entry thereof, be a lien on the real property (except the homestead mentioned in s. 272.20) in the county where docketed, of every person against whom it is rendered and docketed, which he has at the time of docketing or which he acquires thereafter within said 10 years. A judgment discharged in bankruptcy shall upon entry of the order of discharge cease to be and shall not thereafter become a lien on any real property of the discharged person then owned or thereafter acquired.

(2) When the collection of the judgment or the sale of the real estate upon which it is a lien shall be delayed by law, and the judgment creditor shall have caused to be entered on the docket "enforcement suspended by injunction" or otherwise, as the case may be, and such entry dated, the time of such delay after the date of such entry shall not be taken as part of said ten years. And whenever an appeal from any judgment shall be pending and the bond or deposit requisite to stay execution has been given or made, the trial court may, on motion, after notice to the judgment creditor, on such terms as it shall see fit, direct the clerk to enter on the docket that such judgment is "secured on appeal," and thereupon it shall cease during the pendency of such appeal to be a lien.

(3) If the judgment be affirmed on appeal or the appeal be dismissed the clerk shall, on the filing of the remittitur, enter on the docket "lien restored by affirmance" or "lien restored by dismissal of appeal" with the date of such entry, and the lien thereof shall be thereupon restored. Similar entries may be made with the like effect upon the docket of such judgment in any other county upon filing with the clerk of the circuit court thereof a transcript of the original docket.

Cross Reference: See 270.91 (2) for procedure to be followed to obtain satisfaction of judgment discharged in bankruptcy.

270.80 Supreme court judgment, docketing. The clerk of the supreme court, on demand and upon payment of one dollar, shall furnish a certified transcript of any money judgment of said court which transcript may be filed and docketed in the office of any clerk of the circuit court in the manner that other judgments are docketed and shall then be a like lien and for a like time as circuit court judgments on the real property in the county where docketed. And whenever the supreme court shall remit its judgment for the recovery of money or for costs to the lower court such judgment shall in like manner be docketed by the clerk of said court and shall have the like force and effect as judgments of the circuit court so docketed.

270.81 Docketing federal judgments. Every judgment and decree requiring the payment of money rendered in a district court of the United States within this state shall be, from the docketing thereof in said court, a lien upon the real property of the judgment debtor situated in the county in which it is so docketed, the same as a judgment of the state court. And a transcript of such docket may be filed with the clerk of the circuit court of any other county; and shall be docketed in his office as in the case of judgments and decrees of the state courts and with like effect, on payment of fees as provided in section 59.42.

270.82 Docket entry of reversal of judgment. Whenever any docketed judgment shall be reversed and the remittitur filed the clerk shall enter on the docket "reversed on appeal."

270.84 Time of docketing; damages. Every clerk who shall docket a judgment or decree and enter upon the docket a date or time other than that of its actual entry or shall neglect to docket the same at the proper time shall be liable to the party injured in treble the damages he may sustain by reason of such fault or neglect.

270.85 Assignment of judgment. When a duly acknowledged assignment of a judgment shall be filed with the clerk he shall note the fact and the date thereof and of filing on the docket. An assignment may be made by an entry on the docket thus: "I assign this judgment to A. B.," signed by the owner, with the date affixed and witnessed by the clerk.

270.86 Satisfaction of judgment by execution. When an execution shall be returned satisfied in whole or in part the judgment shall be deemed satisfied to the extent of the amount so returned unless such return be vacated and the clerk shall enter in the docket that the amount stated in such return has been collected.

270.87 Judgments, how satisfied. A judgment may be satisfied in whole or in part or as to any judgment debtor by an instrument signed and acknowledged by the owner or, at any time within five years after the rendition thereof, (when no assignment has been filed) by his attorney of record, or by an acknowledgment of satisfaction, signed and entered on the docket in the county where first docketed, with the date of entry, and witnessed by the clerk. Every satisfaction of a part of a judgment or as to some of the judgment debtors shall state the amount paid thereon or for the release of such debtors, naming them.

270.88 Satisfaction by attorney not conclusive. No satisfaction by an attorney shall be conclusive upon the judgment creditor in respect to any person who shall have notice of revocation of the authority of such attorney, before any payment made thereon or before any purchase of property bound by such judgment shall have been effected.

270.89 Duty of clerk on filing satisfaction. On filing a satisfaction, duly executed with the clerk he shall enter the same on the court record of the case and shall enter a statement of the substance thereof, including the amount paid, on the margin of the judgment docket with the date of filing the satisfaction.

270.90 Court may direct satisfaction. When a judgment has been fully paid but not satisfied or the satisfaction has been lost the trial court may authorize the attorney of the judgment creditor to satisfy the same or may by order declare the same satisfied and direct satisfaction to be entered upon the docket.

270.91 Judgment satisfied not a lien; partial satisfaction. (1) When a judgment shall have been satisfied in whole or in part or as to any judgment debtor and such satisfaction docketed, such judgment shall, to the extent of such satisfaction, cease to be a lien; and any execution thereafter issued shall contain a direction to collect only the residue thereof, or to collect only from the judgment debtors remaining liable thereon.

(2) Upon proper notice, any person who has secured a discharge in bankruptcy may apply to the court where such judgment was entered, for an order to satisfy such judgment as may have been duly discharged in such order of discharge in bankruptcy and which judgment was duly set forth and included in such schedules of bankruptcy as to the name and address of such judgment holder. If the court is so satisfied that such order of discharge in bankruptcy was duly obtained and that the name and address of such judgment creditor was included in such schedules of bankruptcy, then the court shall declare such judgment to be satisfied and direct satisfaction thereof to be entered on the docket. The order of the court shall fully release the real property of any such bankrupt person from the lien of such judgment. Thereafter the entry of such order of satisfaction of judgment shall be a bar to any other action against the person securing a discharge in bankruptcy by such judgment creditor.

Cross Reference: See 270.79 (1) which provides that a judgment discharged in bankruptcy ceases to be a lien upon entry of the order of discharge.

A judgment against an administrator of an estate based upon his failure to draw estate funds from a bank of which he was an officer and director before it failed in 1935 was discharged in bankruptcy since he was guilty of no more than negligence, despite the conclusion in the judgment that he was guilty of a defalcation. Aetna Casualty & Surety Co. v. Lauerman, 12 W (2d) 387, 107 NW (2d) 605.

270.92 Filing transcript of satisfaction. When a satisfaction of a judgment has been entered on the docket, in the county where it was first docketed a certified transcript of such docket or a certificate by the clerk, under his official seal, showing such satisfaction, may be filed with the clerk of the circuit court in any county where it is docketed, and he shall thereupon make a similar entry on his docket.

270.93 Satisfaction of judgment. For the purpose of paying any money judgment, the debtor may deposit with the clerk of the court in which the judgment was entered the amount of his liability thereon. The clerk shall give the debtor a certificate showing the date and amount of the deposit and identifying the judgment; and shall immediately note on the docket thereof and on the margin of the judgment journal the amount and date of the deposit. The debtor shall immediately give written notice to the owner of record of the judgment and to his attorney of record, personally or by registered mail, to his last known post-office address, stating the amount, date and purpose of the deposit, and that it is held subject to the order of such judgment owner. Ten days after giving the notice, the clerk shall, upon filing proof of such service, satisfy the judgment of record, unless the trial court shall otherwise order. Acceptance by such owner of the sum deposited shall have the same legal consequences that payment direct by the debtor would have. Payment to the clerk shall include fifty cents clerk's fees.

270.94 Refusal to satisfy judgment. If any owner of any judgment, after full payment thereof, fails for seven days after being thereto requested and after tender of his reasonable charges therefor, to satisfy the judgment he shall be liable to the party paying the same, his heirs or representatives in the sum of fifty dollars damages and also for actual damages occasioned by such failure.

270.95 Action on judgment, when brought. No action shall be brought upon a judgment rendered in any court of this state, except a court of a justice of the peace, between the same parties, without leave of the court, for a good cause shown, on notice to the adverse party.

270.96 Uniform enforcement of foreign judgments act. (1) DEFINITIONS. As used in this section:

(a) "Foreign judgment" means any judgment, decree or order of a court of the United States or of any state or territory which is entitled to full faith and credit in this state.

(b) "Register" means to file and docket a foreign judgment in a court of this state.

(c) "Levy" means to take control of or create a lien upon property under any judicial writ or process whereby satisfaction of a judgment may be enforced against such property.

(d) "Judgment debtor" means the party against whom a foreign judgment has been rendered.

(2) REGISTRATION OF JUDGMENT. On application made within the time allowed for bringing an action on a foreign judgment in this state, any person entitled to bring such action may have a foreign judgment registered in any court of this state having jurisdiction of such an action.

(3) APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION. A verified complaint for registration shall set forth a copy of the judgment to be registered, the date of its entry and the record of any subsequent entries affecting it all authenticated in the manner authorized by laws of the United States or of this state, and a prayer that the judgment be registered. The clerk of the registering court shall notify the clerk of the court which rendered the original judgment that application for registration has been made, and shall request him to file this information with the judgment.

(4) PERSONAL JURISDICTION. At any time after registration the plaintiff shall be entitled to have summons issued and served upon the judgment debtor as in an action brought upon the foreign judgment, in any manner authorized by the law of this state for obtaining jurisdiction of the person.

(5) NOTICE IN ABSENCE OF PERSONAL JURISDICTION. If jurisdiction of the person of the judgment debtor cannot be obtained, a notice clearly designating the foreign judgment and reciting the fact of registration, the court in which it is registered, and the time allowed for pleading, shall be sent by the clerk of the registering court by registered mail to the last known address of the judgment debtor. Proof of such mailing shall be made by certificate of the clerk.

(6) LEVY. At any time after registration and regardless of whether jurisdiction of the person of the judgment debtor has been secured or final judgment has been obtained, a levy may be made under the registered judgment upon any property of the judgment debtor which is subject to execution or other judicial process for satisfaction of judgments.

(7) NEW PERSONAL JUDGMENT. If the judgment debtor fails to plead within 30 days after jurisdiction over his person has been obtained, or if the court after hearing has refused to set the registration aside, the registered judgment shall become a final personal judgment of the court in which it is registered.

(8) DEFENSES. Any defense, set-off, counterclaim or cross complaint which under the law of this state may be asserted by the defendant in an action on the foreign judgment may be presented by appropriate pleadings and the issues raised thereby shall be tried and determined as in other civil actions. Such pleadings must be filed within 30 days after personal jurisdiction is acquired over him or within 30 days after the mailing of the notice prescribed in subsection (5).

(9) PENDENCY OF APPEAL. If the judgment debtor shows that an appeal from the original judgment is pending or that he is entitled and intends to appeal therefrom, the court shall, on such terms as it thinks just, postpone the trial for such time as appears sufficient for the appeal to be concluded, and may set aside the levy upon proof that the defendant has furnished adequate security for satisfaction of the judgment.

(10) EFFECT OF SETTING ASIDE REGISTRATION. An order setting aside a registration constitutes a final judgment in favor of the judgment debtor.

(11) APPEAL. An appeal may be taken by either party from any judgment sustaining or setting aside a registration on the same terms as an appeal from a judgment of the same court.

(12) NEW JUDGMENT QUASI IN REM. If personal jurisdiction of the judgment debtor is not secured within 30 days after the levy and he has not, within 30 days after the mailing of the notice prescribed by subsection (5), acted to set aside the registration or to assert a set-off, counterclaim or cross complaint the registered judgment shall be a final judgment quasi in rem of the court in which it is registered, binding upon the judgment debtor's interest in property levied upon, and the court shall enter an order to that effect.

(13) SALE UNDER LEVY. Sale under levy may be held at any time after final judgment, either personal or quasi in rem, but not earlier except as otherwise provided by law for sale under levy on perishable goods. Sale and distribution of the proceeds shall be made in accordance with the law of this state.

(14) INTEREST AND COSTS. When a registered foreign judgment becomes a final judgment of this state, the court shall include as part of the judgment interest payable on the foreign judgment under the law of the state in which it was rendered, and the cost of obtaining the authenticated copy of the original judgment. The court shall include as part of its judgment court costs incidental to the proceeding in accordance with the law of this state.

(15) SATISFACTION OF JUDGMENT. Satisfaction, either partial or complete, of the original judgment or of a judgment entered thereupon in any other state shall operate to the same extent as satisfaction of the judgment in this state, except as to costs authorized by subsection (14).

(16) OPTIONAL PROCEDURE. The right of a judgment creditor to bring an action to enforce his judgment instead of proceeding under this section remains unimpaired.

(17) UNIFORMITY OF INTERPRETATION. This section shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

(18) SHORT TITLE. This section may be cited as the uniform enforcement of foreign judgments act.
